Chatham-Kent Sustainable Shorelines Study

Saturday, January 8, 2011

The Municipality of Chatham-Kent has initiated the Shoreline Areas Sustainable Community Plan/Secondary Plan Study. The purpose of this study is to develop a vision and more detailed planning policy direction and a sustainable strategy for lands within proximity to the Municipality's lakes and rivers, including Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie, the Thames River, the Sydenham River and Chenal Ecarte (the Snye River), as well as the shorelines themselves. The study is intended to take a sustainable, balanced approach to planning, in which economic growth can occur without compromising natural and cultural heritage resources.

The information presented today, including the Draft Framework Report – Towards a Sustainable Shoreline, Draft Secondary Plan, and Draft Community Sustainability Plan are available at the Municipal Centres and on the Municipality's website through the following link:
